Roll of Arms

The coat of arms of a Knight of Men of Iron represents his work to reach the level of knighthood and his devotion to his Lord and King Jesus, son of the Most High God.

He has given service to men, found honor in the Code of Chivalry, has become a warrior in the martial skills and prayer and has become a greater servant of the King.

It is no small feat to earn the right to wear your own personal coat of arms.

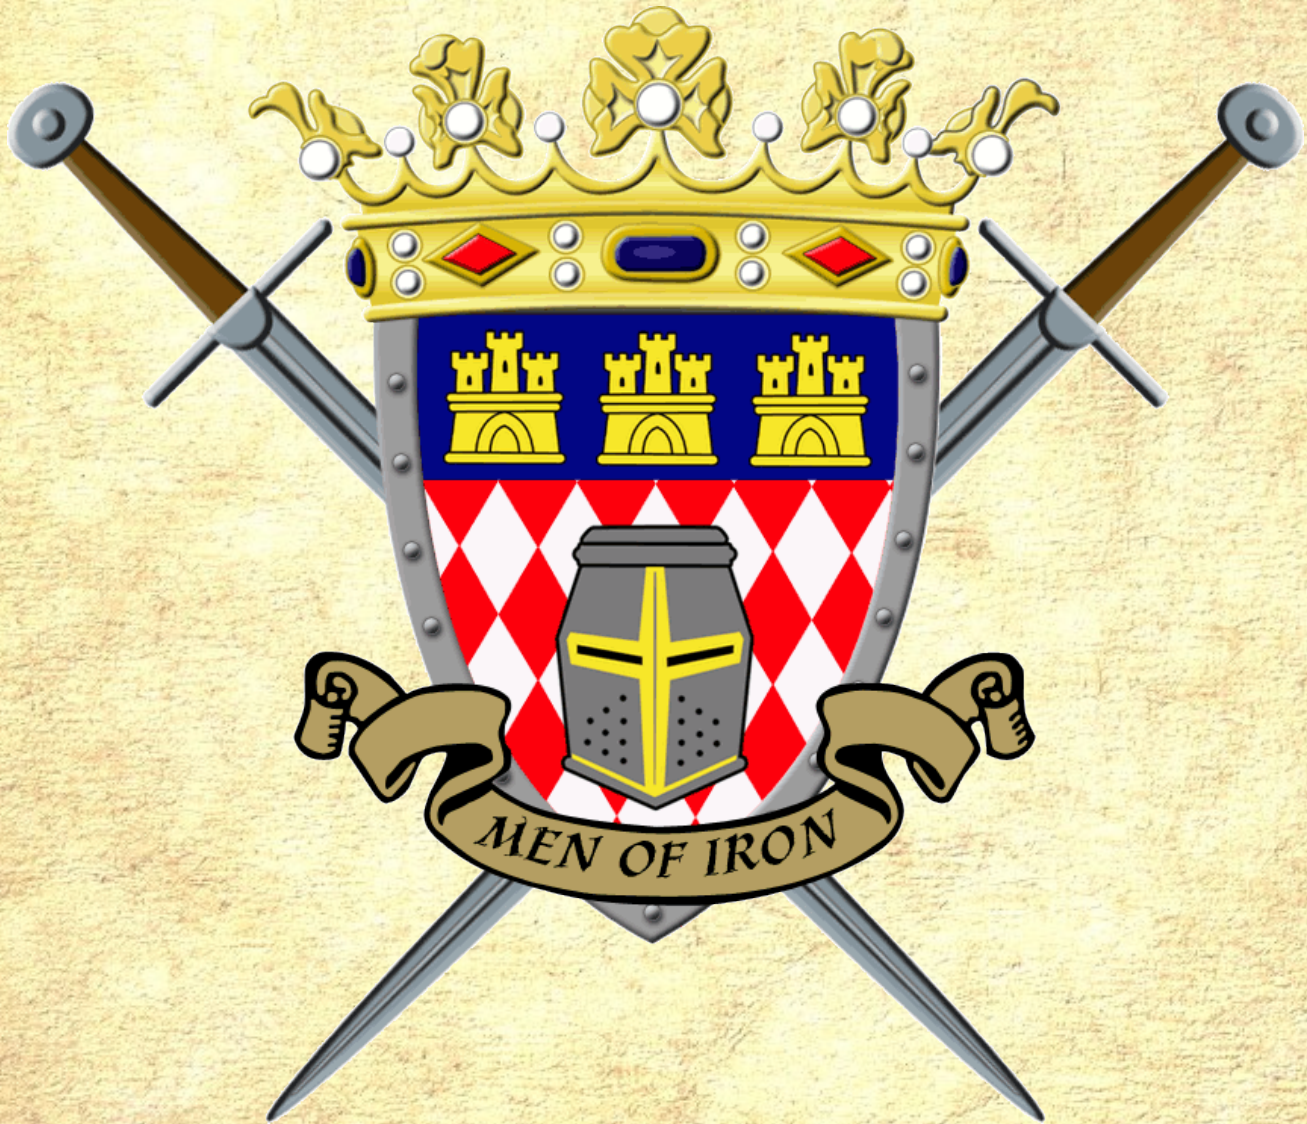

The arms displayed in this roll of arms are the coat of arms of the Peers of the Realm, Guildmasters, Knight Baronets and Knights of Men of Iron.

Arms of the Realm

Adorned with the coronet of the high King, the blue chief represents our sincere devotion to the King. The three castles in chief represents the growth of the church by faithfully advancing the Great Commission to the world and the spiritual authority given to us by the high King to advance the Kingdom of heaven. The red and white checked field represents the blood of Christ (the red) that washes over us to cleanse us white as snow (the white). The great helm represents wisdom, strength and protection given to us by the King.

The down point crossed swords represent that our battle was won by the King through his death and resurrection.
